Dear Mr. Violet:

We are happy to inform you of the successful results of your aptitude test in French. We are also, happy to inform you of the successful results of your conference test, from Portuguese into English. We would like to place you on our roster of eligible contract interpreters. You understand of course, that this is not an offer of permanent employment, but refers to temporary assignments as and when the occasion arises.

We regret to inform you that the results of your seminar test in French and your conference test from French into English were not up to the standards required for this specific type of work at this time. We would, however, be glad to schedule a retest in one year should you so desire.

Certain administrative procedures are required before we can utilize your services, and it will be appreciated if you will return the enclosed form, at your earliest convenience, together with three small passport-type photos. An additional copy of Standard Form 171 is enclosed for your own records.

Sincerely yours,

Harry Obst
Director
Office of Language Services
